

WHY ATTEND

FLOW Global User Group Meeting is where industry professionals and end users can meet to share ideas and network with each other. At FLOW you can also meet with our team of developers and software engineers to learn more about our technology and help you get the most out of our offerings.

Here's how you can benefit from attending:

- FLOW presentations will address solutions to current technology challenges in your industry, including IIoT and Digital Twin
- Meet one-on-one with Emerson subject matter experts to discuss specific challenges and how to overcome them
- Receive first-hand information about future Emerson Midstream Applications and product roadmaps
- Learn best practices and proven solutions from Emerson experts and other industry leaders
- New* Introducing GeoFields Suite of Applications, our newest acquisition in pipeline integrity data collection, management, and risk analysis for oil and gas
